Health Insurance Terms (1 of 3) Group insurance anticipates that a large group of individuals will purchase insurance through their employer and the risk is spread among those paying individuals • Self-employed individuals can purchase individual private health insurance. These plans are being provided by the Health Insurance Marketplace • Self-funded or self-insurance programs are health insurance programs that are implemented and controlled by the company itself of 5) . Resource-Based Relative Value Scale Reimbursement (RBRVS) • Medicare developed RBRVS to reimburse physicians according to a relative value assigned to a service • This reimbursement is divided into three components: physician work, practice expenses, and malpractice insurance • Medicare pays a flat fee for physician visit based on the Healthcare Common Procedure Coding System, which is used to code professional services. • The RBRVS, implemented in 1992, has become a standard Medicare Part B reimbursement method.

Ambulatory Patient Groups (APGs) - Ambulatory Patient Groups (APGs) were developed in the 1980s. • A system of codes that explained the number and types of services used in an ambulatory visit. Similar to the DRG classification, patients per APG had similar clinical classifications, resource use, and costs.

Ambulatory Payment Categories (APCs) • Implemented in August 2000, Ambulatory Payment Categories (APCs) were adapted from the APGs. The APC divides all outpatient services into 300 procedural groups/classifications based on similar clinical content such as surgery, medical, and ancillary services. • Each APC is assigned a payment weight based on the median cost of services within the APC

Prospective payment system for skilled nursing facilities, used by Medicare. • Provides for a per diem based on the clinical severity of patients. • A classification system called resource utilization group (RUG), a type of DRG, was designed to differentiate patients based on their resource use. . As the patient's condition changes, the rate of reimbursement changes.
